

Somatic Transformation

From Instincts to Archetypes

The Transformational Process: Advanced Clinical Issues

With Sharon A. Stanley, PhD

Archetypes allied with the instinctual body, create profound transformational energies and opportunities for healing. You are invited to spend four days with Sharon as she explores the use of archetypal energies when working with dissociation and complex trauma. The archetypal energies of nature, particularly those of the Pacific West Coast, will be woven throughout the workshop through the exploration of the imaginal and the spiritual in the context of deepening and expanding Somatic Transformation in your clinical practice. We will also delve into the fascinating and relevant exploration of cellular biology and its application to Somatic Transformative processes and clinical practice ~ healing the wounds of trauma from cellular biology to the soul in the world.

For the first time, this advanced workshop will bring together Somatic Transformation students from different training sites in Canada and the United States ~ this promises to be a fruitful experience to deepen and expand our connections and create a more cohesive educational community. The format, as always, will be didactic, experiential, demonstration, and practice.

Thursday July 15th through Sunday July 18th, 2010

Location: Sleeping Dog Farm, Victoria, BC www.sleepingdogfarm.ca

$896 Cnd (800 + 96 hst tax) before June 23rd

$980 Cnd (875 + 105 hst tax) thereafter

Registration and Information

Lisa Mortimore ~ Address: # 10-655 Fort St., Victoria, BC V8W 1G6
lisa@lisamortimore.com or 250.514.4731

As space is limited, your place will be confirmed with a $200 non-refundable deposit

Training opportunity is open to those who have completed the 2 year Somatic Transformation program